Providing technology based solutions that enable independent living

Tochtech Technologies uses non-intrusive activity tracking systems and health monitoring technology solutions that enable remote care by family caregivers or care service providers.

Our technology based solutions address:

- Safety at home: Fall and routine detection, cooking safety, etc.
- Wandering detection: Tracking of seniors suffering from dementia who may wander away.
- Sleep tracking: Tracking of patterns, quality and habits of sleep.
- Medication management and tracking: Ensuring medication is taken as required.

Live data from these tracking and monitoring systems can offer valuable information on the condition of a patient and input to their care plan.

Toch Smarturns, keeping you safe in the kitchen

Our very first product is designed with kitchen safety in mind

Are you worried about the stove being left on and unattended, or forgetting to turn the stove off? The results can be disastrous. That is why we created TochSmarturns. Using a combination of patent pending technology, motion detection and wifi technology, Toch Smarturns issues alerts when a stove is unattended and becomes a fire hazard.

Tochtech Technologies is working with the community to build better solutions

We are working in conjunction with medical specialists and advisors, care givers and seniors, who are helping to guide and design our product solutions.

We are continually looking to build partnerships with individuals and business owners involved with Senior Care. If you are passionate about enabling independent living for seniors we would like to hear from you. Let us help you build your business too.
